

Friday, July 14th

Forms of Ecological Knowledge: Theoretical Perspectives

13.00 – 13.30: Philipp Kohl, Clemens Günther: Introduction
13.30 – 14.15: Susi Frank (Berlin): Are the Premises of Eco-narratology in Formalism? Some Thoughts Inspired by Maik Yohansen
14.15 – 15.00: Clemens Günther (Berlin): The Form of Feeling: Presentiments in Science and Literature

Political Ecologies

15.30 – 16.15: Jonathan Oldfield (Birmingham): Soviet Articulations of Natural Systems and Society-Nature Interaction
16.15 – 17.00: Andy Bruno (Chicago): Forms of Growth in Soviet Socialism: Reconsidering Productivism in Light of Scholarship on Degrowth
17.00 – 17.45: Tatjana Petzer (Graz): Autotrophy. An Alimentary Form of Social and Literary Ecology

Poetry Reading

18.15 – 19.45: Anna Glazova; introduction and moderation by Oxana Timofeeva

Saturday, July 15th

Narrative Forms of Ecological Knowledge

10.0 – 10.45: Mariia Koskina (Fribourg): "Time is Like a River?" The Timescape of Soviet Development in Siberia
10.45 – 11.30: Mika Perkiomäki (Helsinki): Forms of Ecological Narratives in Media Representations of the Chernobyl and Zaporizhzhia Nuclear Power Plants During Russia's War on Ukraine
11.30 – 12.15: Timm Schönfelder (Leipzig): Narrating the Hunt. Trajectories of Venatic Knowledge Towards the Fin de Siècle

Models of Evolution

13.30 – 14.15: Georgy Levit (Jena): On the Facets of Ecological Method: Ernst Haeckel and Nikolai Mikloucho-Maclay
14.15 – 15.00: Philipp Kohl (München/Zürich): Narrating the First Forms of Life: Aleksandr Oparin and Vadim Safonov

Ecological Metaphors

15.15 – 16.00: Mieka Erley (Colgate): Against Entropy: Soviet Practices of Closure in Ecology and Narrative
16.00 – 16.45: Elena Fratto (Princeton): Food, Environment, and Recycling: The Revolution as Metabolic Activity

Forms of Peripheral Knowledge

17.00 – 17.45: Julia Herzberg (München): The Hunt for Cold in Tsarist and Soviet Russia
17.45 – 18.30: Colleen McQuillen (Los Angeles): The putevoi ocherk as a Tool of Epistemological Colonization in Late 19th Century

russianecospheres.org

Venue: LMU München, Institut für Slavische Philologie, Geschwister-Scholl-Platz 1, E 318 (3rd Floor)

Zoom Link:

